

FOR AN EMPIRE

The Bonapartists Prepare a Manifesto to the French People.

Exiled Prince Victor Called to Head a Movement for Restoration.

ROYALISTS AND IMPERIALISTS PLOTTING AGAINST THE REPUBLIC.

Every Step of the Nation's Enemies Carefully Watched by the Government. They Lack a Leader, and Their Plans Will Prove Abortive—More Warrants Issued Against Senators and Deputies—Progress of the Panama Investigation.

PARIS, Dec. 22.—To-day it is the Bonapartists that are stepping to the front to take advantage of the difficulties of the Republic. The activity of the royalists aroused the jealousy of the imperialist leaders, and at a secret conclave they drafted a manifesto, addressed to the people of France, urging them to recall the House of Bonaparte to the throne.

This manifesto has not yet been issued, but awaits the approval of Prince Victor, the present recognized head of the ex-imperial family. Prince Victor is now in Brussels and the Bonapartists leaders in Paris have sent agents to that city to induce him to sign the manifesto and authorize its publication. Prince Victor has been living in comparative retirement recently, but has kept a careful watch upon the course of events and his friends in Paris claim that he will be found fully equal to any crisis that may arise, and while prudent as to taking a decisive step he will be positive and courageous in action when once the step is taken.

The imperialists have been canvassing earnestly for supporters among the deputies, but not without success. As the chances of a revolution against republican government seem to increase, the division between monarchists and Bonapartists widens, the members of the two parties, heretofore on common ground as opponents of the Republic, now showing considerable jealousy as to which party shall profit by the difficulties of the Republic. Already this jealousy is showing itself in strained relations between the prominent members of the Right.

WHERE THE BLOW WILL BE DEALT. Should the Bonapartists act it is expected that they will attempt to strike a blow in Paris rather than in the provinces. They, like the monarchists, are being carefully watched, and every movement is reported to M. Ribot and President Carnot. The proceedings of the secret conclave at which the manifesto was determined upon were known to the Government almost as soon as the conclave had adjourned, and the Government is already in possession of the terms of the manifesto.

Not much importance is attached by the authorities to Bonapartist as to Monarchist agitation. The ancient royal house has still a large following in the provinces, as shown during the recent visit of the Countess of Paris to France, when hundreds thronged to kiss her hand and she was received at many places with all the loyalty and honor that could be shown to a queen. This following could easily be aroused into a formidable demonstration that it would cost much effort to suppress, and the royalist cause would receive the sympathy of hundreds of thousands of uneducated Panama stockholders who despise what they regard as the bastard Bonapartist that trades on the fame of the great Napoleon and have learned to hate the Republic whose representatives are exposed as parties to the Panama fraud. The Government, therefore, while keeping a careful outlook on the Bonapartists, considers that it has no reason to fear in that direction. In Paris the great majority hate the Bonapartist pretensions and are disaffected with the Republic only because it does not go far enough to suit them.

The Parisian mob is not for reaction, but tends in the other direction. Besides, the connection of France with the Republic is the Triple Alliance, a serious obstacle to its popularity with Frenchmen. For all those reasons the Bonapartists are expected to be issued, will cause but little uneasiness to the Republic, while the course of the monarchists, who are known to have the earnest sympathy of every crowned head in Europe, is regarded with jealous and anxious vigilance.

The Government is greatly gratified by the action of the Pope in refusing at this critical time to become a tool of monarchist plots, and the friendly relations of church and state will undoubtedly be strengthened should the crisis result in triumph for the Government.

M. de la Roche writes to the Figaro that the parliamentary republic is ruined and ought to be replaced by a consular republic, with Prince Victor Bonaparte as the first Consul. The suggestion is looked upon as an attempt to revive the empire through the same process by which the first Napoleon arrived at it through the straitened situation which makes such a suggestion possible.

MANY PROVINCES TRANQUIL. Many rumors have been current here as to the attitude of the provinces toward the Government because of the Panama scandal, some of the reports going so far as to say that the country divisions were upon the verge of revolution. This morning the Government issued a denial of these disquieting rumors, declaring that the provinces are tranquil, with not the slightest indication of an outbreak. Of course, feeling is deeply stirred by the revelations, but there is little to fear from the country districts.

PARIS IS THE CENTER OF THE SCANDAL, as it would be of any attempt to strangle the Republic. The man to shape events in that direction of monarchy is wanting and without a leader the monarchists, strive as they may, have no hope of success.

DR. HERZ'S RECORD. THE MAN NOW IN HIDING IN ENGLAND WELL KNOWN IN AMERICA.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Dec. 22.—Dr. Cornelius Herz, the man who escaped the clutches of the Panama Canal Investigating Committee by crossing the channel to England, and quite a name in San Francisco some years ago. His name is Dr. Cornelius Herz. Herz came here in 1871, announcing as he established himself as a physician that he was a pupil of the famous Dr. Soulague, a specialist on diseases of the brain. He immediately went to work forming acquaintances among the members of the upper ten, in which he was very successful, so successful, indeed, that he was a sort of Ward McAllister. Soon after arriving he prevailed upon Dr. Stout, an old practitioner of San Francisco, to go into partnership with him. Dr. Stout agreed, but from what he says his experience with Herz was not of the most pleasant character. Dr. Stout was seen at St. Luke's Hospital and here is what he has to say:

"That man Herz made the fairest representations to me and I believed him, but he left me bankrupt. It was too much for me at my time of life. I gave him everything I had. I am not surprised that when he reached Paris he cut a figure and worked other schemes. I am too old now and too infirm to care much, but if I was younger I would like to meet Herz for a few minutes."

Herz treated W. H. Lydon, brewer of large wealth, for some brain affection. It was not long till several weeks after Herz and Lydon left in 1870 to go to Paris how much he had collected. Note after note, each for $10,000, were sent to the Lydon family. They were all different parties.

The total amount, said Lawyer Thomas, who has been a witness in the case, was over $100,000. As Lydon was known to be a respectable man, Herz had an easy job to get his money. They were all paid with at least ten different parties.

Altogether, Herz had cashed in about $100,000 from these notes. As the signature in each case was genuine the notes had to be paid. The Lydon family was not scrupulous about paying his debts. He insisted on squaring with the world each day, even when the Lydon family was in Paris. You can readily understand that this avalanche of indebtedness drove him almost mad. There was a report that he had gone to Europe and I believe it was true, and that Herz was taking care of him there.

Herz was married in 1867 to his beautiful cousin, the charming and talented Princess de Montpensier, daughter of the Duc de Montpensier. By her he has several children, the eldest of whom, the Duc d'Orleans, gives promise of a great future.

CRISP FOR SPEAKER

The Georgia Congressman's Re-election Assured.

NO STRONG OPPOSITION HAS MANIFESTED ITSELF.

Don M. Dickinson Smoothes Over the Reform Club Incident—Grover Cleveland Will Do Nothing to Influence the Organization of the House—Patriotic Purposes of the Incoming Administration.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 22.—Since the much talked of Reform Club banquet in New York, where Speaker Crisp was turned down by the managers of that affair, there has been a great deal said about the bearing that incident will have on the speakership contest when the Fifty-third Congress meets for organization. Several democratic newspapers have announced that there was doubt of Mr. Crisp's re-election, basing the conclusion on the assumption that he did not represent the ultra right reform wing of his party.

A well-informed Western Democrat now at the capital, who has been looking carefully over the ground, said to the Post-Dispatch correspondent to-day:

"Judge Crisp will have a walk-over for re-election as Speaker. I am absolutely certain of this from information as reliable as anything will be."

"While of Texas is out of the House and is therefore eliminated from the contest. The Texas delegation will almost to a man support Speaker Crisp for re-election, led by Congressman Culberson, the most influential man from the State. Mr. Crisp, who was such an ardent worker in the last contest, has publicly declared for Crisp."

"A year ago Crisp had more than three-fourths of the Southern members next time the proposition will be greater as Wise of Virginia (re-elected), who opposed Crisp before, is now for him, and I could mention many more changes in that section. Nearly all of the New England Democrats who opposed Crisp before were defeated for Congress in November last, and of the few who are re-elected from that section O'Neill and Stevens of Massachusetts are returned. They were before and are now for Crisp. Dr. Forrest of Connecticut, for Mills last time, is now for Crisp."

"You know how solidly Tammany Hall and the Gorman influence in and out of Maryland are standing by the present Speaker. He also has a close alliance with Springer of Kansas, Holmes of Indiana, and Brewster of Connecticut. In the Senate and House, the brilliant young member from Nebraska, Tarnsey and Hatch of Missouri will stand as they did before, and the St. Louis Republic cannot shake them. Outwails of Ohio and most of the others from that State, except Tom Johnson and Harter, are for Crisp."

"I know also that Mr. Whitely of New York requested a conference recently with Speaker Crisp, and that the ex-Secretary will use all his influence to have him re-elected, believing it is for the best interests of the party."

"The opposition really has no one to put up against Speaker Crisp," continued this gentleman, "and the fight they hope to make is accounted only by the Brockridges and their small following."

"The conclusion the gentleman said that the scheme to boom Wilson of West Virginia for Speaker will utterly fail. While he is a man of no great reputation, he has no experience as Chairman of the Chicago convention demonstrated his unfitness as a pro-doling officer."

Don M. Dickinson, who has been here for the past two weeks in conference with prominent Democrats in New York and Boston, had a long interview with Speaker Crisp yesterday. Mr. Dickinson assured Mr. Crisp that Mr. Cleveland and his democratic friends were in no way responsible for the defeat of Crisp at the Reform Club. Speaker Crisp would say nothing about the conference for publication except that it was mutually agreeable and satisfactory, and related only to the result of the late election House with which Dickinson was connected.

He has been gauging the sentiment of members with regard to the speakership of the next House, and that he has learned that the sentiment is very largely in favor of Mr. Crisp's re-election.

Michigan member of Congress, who is friendly to Mr. Crisp and also a personal friend of Mr. Cleveland, said to the Post-Dispatch yesterday that Mr. Cleveland recently expressed in New York, to the effect that he has no intention of interfering in the reorganization of the next House. The member referred to spent several days in New York last week and he had Cleveland's views on the subject of the speakership in general politics. He says that Mr. Cleveland proposes to return to the White House with fixed determination to stay and make his administration a success in accordance with the principles laid down by the National Democratic party. It is believed that the re-election of Speaker Crisp is a foregone conclusion.

A friend of Mr. Dickinson, with whom he has been conferring, said yesterday that Mr. Dickinson is going to open a law office in Chicago as a branch of his Detroit office.

lision—Two Children Drowned—
Washed Overboard at Sea.

New York, Dec. 22.—The spectacle of a handsome woman hastily arrayed in morning robes, a leader of society, sitting on a window sill, with her feet on the ledge, and her hands on the window top, waiting to be taken down, attracted a crowd in Gramercy Park to-day. They cheered to the echo when the rescuer appeared and Mrs. Lloyd Aspinwall was carried down in the arms of a gallant fireman, leaving in the excitement her jewels behind, to which she clung so tightly through the danger. Then the house was turned on and the fire put out. It is on Henry Street, a handsome brown stone-front, five stories high with the bay window extending the height of two stories. At the time of the outbreak this morning Mrs. Aspinwall was in her room on the third floor dressing. Fire had broken out in the dumb-waiter and was sweeping up through the square. An infant was carried out by a screaming nurse and Gen. Aspinwall and his son hurried out from the dining-room to the street to see what it was all about. They found out quickly enough. As they stood looking about for Mrs. Aspinwall, a window in the third story was opened and that lady herself stepped out, shutting down the sash behind her and perched upon the slanting roof of the bay window, she braced her feet against the gutter and sat holding her jewel basket in her lap. There was no ladder at hand long enough to reach her lofty perch. Vainly her husband and the neighbors looked around for one. But as the gathering crowd stood beneath waiting her sitting there, the smoke-filled room was replete against the window and the woman, who could not stir an inch without falling to her death. At that moment a fire engine dashed around the corner of the square. Fireman Thomas Coleman grabbed a scaling ladder, hooked it on the bay window and ran up like a cat. Resting on the side, he hooked it up a story higher, and rescued Mrs. Aspinwall. Woman like when it was in sight her nerve gave way, she slid into the arms of the fireman leaving behind her the precious jewels. He was about to carry her down the scaling ladder, when another ladder was thrown up against the building, making it a broader and safer highway for the descent. Down it they went. Mrs. Aspinwall reached the street lying on his shoulder a limp and apparently lifeless burden.

CASUALTIES.

A HOTEL GUEST FALLS FROM A WINDOW AND IS KILLED.

JACKSONVILLE, Ill., Dec. 22.—About 1:45 this morning the police found a man who had just fallen from an upper window in the Pacific Hotel in this city and lay on the walk in a dying condition. He was taken to the hospital and medical assistance summoned but he cannot recover. His name is J. M. Willis. He lives in Toledo, Ill., and is Deputy Sheriff of Mercer County and a well known citizen of that part of the state. The cause of the accident is hard to determine, but it is supposed that while he was looking out the window, feeling ill and wanting fresh air, and losing his balance fell. He was in apparently good health when he retired and there is no apparent reason to suspect foul play. He had a friend rooming with him named J. A. Harter, who was not aware of the accident until he was aroused by the clerk.

HEAD END COLLISION.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Dec. 22.—A head end collision occurred on the L. & N. road near Edgefield Junction at 7:30 this morning. Four men are reported seriously hurt, perhaps fatally, though no one is expected to die. The injured are Conductor E. J. Oakes, who suffers from severe internal injuries, brakeman J. G. O'Neil, fireman Frank Porter, engineer Frank Wilkes, and fireman R. C. Johnson. Both engines and the train were run for some distance. Railroad men in this city are reticent about the matter and the cause of the accident has not been ascertained.

DRAGGED TO DEATH.

PARKERSBURG, W. Va., Dec. 22.—Mr. Fred Gilman, a prominent citizen of this county, met with a terrible death yesterday. Gilman was coming to this city from home, five miles out, when his horse took fright and ran away. Gilman jumped, but he caught both feet in the lines and was dragged by the frantic horse over the frozen and rough road for over a mile. When picked up the man's neck was broken and his face cut to pieces.

WASHED OVERBOARD.

LONDON, Dec. 22.—The British ship Dundonald, which sailed from San Francisco on Aug. 9, reached Queenstown yesterday. She had a tempestuous voyage. Capt. Hawthorne, her master, was washed overboard and

Woman's Mistake.

She climbs too high.

This applies to women, regardless to caste or color. The ambitious girl striving for school honors. The busy housewife, the shop girl, the society woman, all climb too high.

What follows?

Nervous prostration, excitability, fainting spells, dizziness, sleeplessness, backache, and most likely organic disease of the uterus or womb.

drowned. A life-belt was washed away and her cabin was flooded.

CHILDREN DROWNED.

HARTFORD, Conn., Dec. 22.—Julia and Flossie Hayes, aged 8 and 4 years respectively, were found drowned in Walker's Pond, Burnside, yesterday afternoon. The children were playing on the ice near the edge of the pond, where the water was deep. Their father, missing them, went to the pond, saw the girls, hats and broken ice, and under these found the children's dead bodies.

CASUALTY BRIEFS.

Four motormen lost their lives in the fire in the West End street railway stable, Boston, Mass.

Engineer George Fourland of Kansas City, Mo., was killed in a collision on the Memphis line, near Merriam, Kan.

The body of the missing Capt. A. W. Lagrone of Indianapolis, Ill., has been found in a straw stack, near Vandallia, Ill.

Ola Woodard of Windsor, Ill., had one of his eyes burned out by another boy throwing vitriol in his face, he thinking it was water.

A head-end collision on the Kansas City, Fort Scott & Memphis Railroad, at Lenexa, Kan., resulted in the death of a dozen passengers and the wounding of a dozen passengers.

Settled by Concessions.

CLEVELAND, O., Dec. 22.—The differences between the Big Four telegraphers and the company are as good as settled, and it is almost certain that there will be no strike. The general opinion of the operators is that it is the wrong time to precipitate a strike. The company has made concessions. It will increase the pay of a certain class of operators as has been demanded, and to counteract the increased expense thereby entailed, it will abolish certain minor offices. The men and the company seem to be mutually agreed and the trouble seems to be ended.

HOLIDAY RATES.

The Ohio & Mississippi Railway will sell round trip tickets at excursion rates Dec. 24, 25, 26, 31, and Jan. 1 and 2, to Cincinnati, Louisville and points on its line; also to Columbus, O., Pittsburg, Cleveland, Wheeling, Huntington, Charleston, W. Va., Chattanooga, Birmingham, N. Y., and other points on connecting lines, good for return until Jan. 8, 1893, inclusive.

Waterson is Out.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Dec. 22.—Henry Waterson was at the Benezet House last night, and in speaking of Mr. Cleveland's administration, said: "It will not be in Mr. Cleveland's Cabinet. I cannot afford to accept any public office." He was then asked if he wanted any office he would not be required to leave Kentucky to get it. I did fight the coming President at the convention, but I am satisfied that Mr. Cleveland will come nearer being a Democrat this time than ever before.

EAST ST. LOUIS.
The Strikers the Toledo, St. Louis & Kansas City Settling.
The employees of the Toledo, St. Louis & Kansas City Railway Co., who quit yesterday because they had not received pay for their last month's labor, resumed their duties this morning. The local officials offered a settlement with the strikers by promising to pay them before the end of the week. It was claimed by the officers of the company that the pay car was not expected to arrive before the latter part of the week and that a misunderstanding was the cause of the dissatisfaction of the men.
Mrs. Elsie Walsh obtained a judgment in the city of St. Louis for $200 damages for injuries she sustained last month when she had a heart attack and collapsed while she was in the city. The jury was out all night and rendered a verdict giving a judgment for the amount stated at the opening of the court this morning.
Edward Morris, employed at the Tudor Iron works, was injured by several pigs of iron falling upon him. His right leg was broken. He was removed to his home at 517 Fitzgerald avenue.

Mrs. A. J. Wilkowsky of Manchester, Mo., is here visiting her son, William Wilkowsky.
Belleville.
About three weeks ago the molders at the Rogers foundry quit work because apprentices were given employment, and ten non-union men were put in their places.
To-day seven of the new men left the foundry because, as they claimed, the superintendent was dissatisfied with their work, and demanded that they turn out more finished pieces or accept a decrease in the wages they were receiving, $5 per day. In consequence the foundry is not now in full operation, but probably will be running steadily again in a short time.
It is reported that the farmers and workmen of this county are forming a syndicate for the purpose of publishing a daily paper to be devoted entirely to their interests. The paper will be published in Belleville.
William E. Hartnagel of Belleville, who was employed as a pharmacist at Freeburg, was found dead there yesterday. He was afflicted with insanity and had been in the habit of using chloroform to induce sleep, and it is supposed that he made use of a greater quantity than usual the previous night, his death being the result. The young man was a son of Michael Hartnagel of 215 North Jackson street, this city.

Greenfield.
GREENFIELD, Dec. 22.—John Simon, a boy 14 years old, was struck by an Illinois Central train last Friday night at Nanamoon. He was badly injured that he died the following day.
Wm. H. Ellise went to Bloomington Tuesday where he will make his daughter and family, Mrs. Dr. Jeff Dunn, a visit.
The old corner of the Greenfield, Macoupin Co., will be worked again in the near future. The machinery is all in good condition, and it is believed that though the vein of coal is not of an extra thickness, during the winter months its workings could be made profitable to its operators.
J. C. Crouch of this place has receipts for 1,575 turkeys shipped to New York city last week. They weighed 2,000 pounds dressed, for which he paid $2,500.
Thomas Steedly of Palmira has turned out to be a real reader. He has been made up by people of that place, and he has proven his power to the satisfaction of all. Any article hidden with him is hidden in a quick and sure way. His eyes are banded. He is contemplating giving exhibitions. A jury at Taylorville has decided that the coal company of that place shall pay to D. W. Mansell $3,000 as damages for the loss of a leg. The leg was caused by being crushed by the falling of a state while working in the company's mine.
The cottages of this county have been reopened after a five weeks during the prevalence of diphtheria.
The railroad has once more broken out in Harding, Calhoun County. The first line was started in considering seriously the plan of extending their line from Greenfield to the river through the county of about. The J. S. E. are going to commence work on the bridge over the Illinois river at Kemptville next spring, as soon as the winter season is over. The line will run from Louisiana, Mo., through the north end of Calhoun. It will not be long till that county can be reached during the winter season as well as any other time.
Miss Grace Bush of Springfield is the guest of Mrs. Vager Dickerman, her sister.
Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Williamson are entertaining last night from Jackson.
Two hay and straw balers were unloaded here last night. They had come from near St. Louis, and have a contract to furnish straw for large paper mills of that city. The hay made contract for 300 cars of the Q. to ship in.
W. M. Slaughter is so far recovered as to get up town.
The total number of English sparrows which have been killed in this city for over a week.
A gay and happy party and ball will be given by the young ladies of this city on the evening of Dec. 30 in the Grand Hall.
J. A. Brown of Carrollton was here calling on old friends.
A protracted meeting has been in progress at the Baptist Church in this city for over a week.
A Christmas entertainment and tree will be given at the Christian Church in Athensville on the evening of the 24th.

ARCHBISHOP RYAN.

Philadelphia's Prelate Discusses the School Question.

In a published interview in the New York World, the full force of which is not comprehended generally, Archbishop Ryan comes out with a talk which will to some extent check the attempted stampede under the leadership of Archbishop Ireland.

Many of the friends, real friends, of the Archbishop of St. Paul and his cause, are watching with silent disgust the impositions practiced by the leaders on that side of the school issue. No later than yesterday the papers of the country printed what purported to be a cablegram from Rome showing the Pope's satisfaction. There is every reason to believe that this is an invention, not a word of which came by cable. To the representations from St. Paul that the satelliets were authorized and that no room was left for difference of opinion, Archbishop Ryan's interview seems to make answer. He says:

"The views of ecclesiastics, especially those of the distinguished Archbishop of St. Paul, have been quoted often. The visit of Archbishop Sattoli has revived interest in the school question. You have read no doubt the propositions submitted by Mr. Sattoli at the recent meeting of the archbishops. The published account is substantially correct. I will find it the people of the United States understand that the Catholic Church has no purpose other than to educate her children and to maintain her faith. Religious bodies ought to be as one in sentiment in questions of education. There is a common enemy all must oppose and there is ignorance. The mother of vice is ignorance and to crush it should be the aim of good citizens. The Catholic Church has always been the friend of popular education. Common schools for the instruction of the masses of the people were first founded by the church and the progress of knowledge is in accord with her long-suffering policy. I heartily antagonize between educational institutions, I feel that there should be instead the antagonism of emulation only.

"If Catholics are not satisfied with the public school system of our country it is not because their institutions are not to education, but because they do not so far enough in the mission of training or calling forth the powers of the soul. We are as one with the public schools in all that pertains to intellect and memory. We are as one with them with regard to the borders of another and higher region to which they decline to ascend.

"An influence on the intellect is exercised through education. The mission of religious education is to the heart and passions of mankind, and it makes better men and other citizens. The sacrifice essential to morality are best served by it.

"In these generalities all right-thinking men will agree, I think. The great practical question in connection with the education is how to impart with equal instruction the religious training. If you sweep away from the great mass of Christian parents the number who have not the necessary time to devote to their children at home and in addition those who lack the necessary knowledge, you will probably include two-thirds of the humbler classes of society. The hour of religious instruction in the Sunday-school is insufficient. The little acquired may be half dissipated before the next school hour.

"The daily education in the religious truth is necessary. The daily school should combine instruction of the head and the heart, secular education and religious. There are many who are of the opinion that a radical change of sentiment is to be made, and that the religious thought of an enlightened humanity will assert itself. The Lutheran church recognizes the need of a religious, moral and religious instruction. The Protestant churches incline in the same direction, and so do others with similar religious organizations. The views of the Catholic church on the subject of matrimonial divorce gain ground, and the same thought will lead the same people to believe that the church is right in opposing the divorce of the religious child; that she is right in teaching religious restraint on the passions of the rising generation and teaching it daily. I think that an educated sounder is far more dangerous to society than an ignorant one. If we are to develop the intellect only, without giving a safety valve, as it were, by giving the heart a good training, it might be better to omit the more intellectual development.

"It is for the reasons I have enumerated that Catholics deem the union of the two educations imperative. It is for these reasons that they believe that the child should not be torn and that the principle of combined secular and religious instruction should prevail. We cannot make concessions to any departure from this principle and we must insist that the true religious education should be the one which happily unites the two kinds of instruction. There are differences of opinion among the bishops as to the details of carrying out the purpose of the church, but on the main subject of combined religious and secular daily instruction there is but one view, and that is that the combination is essential and prequisite.

SWALLOWED A RAZOR.

But It Was a Small One and Was Taken Out of the Girl's Stomach.

LONDON, Dec. 22.—Jane Savage, a working-woman in Lincoln, while cleaning house last week, placed her brother's small razor between her teeth that she might have both hands free to take down a shelf. As she reached for the shelf the razor slipped half way down her throat. She tried to catch her breath and thus drew the razor so far down that when a surgeon was called he was unable to relieve her. She was taken to the Lincoln Hospital and examined. Her throat was badly swollen, but the razor was gone. Yesterday she complained of severe pains in her stomach and symptoms of acute inflammation were discovered. The morning, therefore, her stomach was opened. The razor was found, tightly closed, as when she swallowed it. The removal of the razor was followed this evening by the relief of all pain. The woman is doing well, and probably will have recovered fully in three weeks.

OH, MERRY DAY!

Christmas With McNichol. Life has few days of perfect bliss. So we may be excused for praying that we no Christmas joys may miss. That fortune may not far be straying. No season whippers to the heart. More sweet than this one we're waiting. From friends, good souls we would not part. Your last sad, heavy day is past. What a festive we are celebrating.

Look back beyond the present veil. Which throws away all harsher measures. Remember many a moving tale. Of childhood's joys and pleasures. Grudge not each little soul, in youth. The charm of Christmas fortune tell. To soon they learn the bitter truth. Which lies beneath their merriment.

Give up to mirth and dance and song. Such hours as can be thus devoted. The happy time will not be long. As least, so wise ones have been quoted. And while in innocence and mirth. The children clutch at fortune tell. Let elders gather near the hearth. Made comfortable by McNichol.

Wait not for wealth or purse of gold. In this 'I'm very sure you're all meant. The very finest goods are sold. By Mac and McNichol by installment. Make gifts of treasures that will last. My things that will not break or fade. Your last sad, heavy day is past. Down deep your every burden laid.

This is surely the chance of a lifetime to buy household goods on credit and for such low prices, none so reasonable as (Trade Mark.) THE ONLY McNICHOL, 1015-1022-1024 Market St.

P. S.—If you have waited all the year, try now to become wiser and happier. Any man can afford to buy goods on this generous plan. No strain or burden to weigh down the heaviest of men. Carpets, clocks, pictures, dishes, gilt chairs, tables, cabinets, etc., down the list. Baby carriages, stoves, etc., in the city. Do not delay too long.

LUDWIG'S MUSIC STORE BARGAINS. OPEN UNTIL 9 P. M.

An Anti-Trust Distillery.
A vigorous effort is on foot to organize an anti-trust distillery in St. Louis. Messrs. Harow & Trebes, financial agents, have already secured an option on the old Madison Distillery Co.'s plant on Madison and Twenty-third streets, and a sufficient number of dealers have become interested in the project. It is claimed, to insure its success, the plant last Tuesday, on invitation, and discussed the advisability of operating it. The plant has a capacity at present of 1,000 bushels of grain per day and could with a few improvements be made to handle double that amount. The trust has such a strong hold upon all its customers here at present that many of them are deterred from going into the new enterprise for fear of being squeezed out of business entirely.

The Electropoise.
The ancients said there were two ways in which death might be retarded. First, by conserving physical energies; second, by increasing vitality. We Americans will not husband our physical forces, but by the use of the Electropoise vitality may be so increased that the diseased body may be restored to health and the healthy body may be kept healthy. As a tonic and blood purifier the Electropoise is unsurpassed. For terms and circulars apply to National Electropoise Co., 410 Mermod & Jaccard Building, St. Louis, Mo.

JACK THE HUGGER.

This One Found to Be an Ohio Man of Some Prominence.
COLUMBUS, O., Dec. 22.—The newspapers have teemed of late with stories of all kinds of Jacks—from Jack the London Ripper down to Jack the Tripper of Cleveland. But the town of Belleair, on this side of the river, not far from Wheeling, has derived considerable profit in advertising through its Jack the Hugger. For months he has terrified the ladies of the place, who feared to walk alone after twilight in certain parts of the city. A few mornings since he approached and embraced a comely mulatto girl in an unfrequented street. The girl screamed and the man fled. He was pursued by a policeman and captured after a hard chase. The man fought desperately, seriously wounding his captor, but was dragged to the police station and recognized. He was identified as John Shanefelt, a leading politician and business and society man. Shanefelt offered a large sum of money to hush up the case, but was fined. He is a son of a member of the Ohio Legislature and a warm personal friend of Col. Fournier, the present Secretary of State. His friends claim that he is insane.

JOCKEY CLUB BALL.

Elegant Entertainment Given by Mr. and Mrs. Moses Ramsey.

THE AFFAIR WAS TO INTRODUCE THEIR TWO YOUNG DAUGHTERS.

Mrs. Eugene Abadie's Reception and Debut Party to Her Daughter and Miss Maude Belcher—Mrs. Charles W. Knapp's House-Warming Party—The Epion Club Meeting—Society News.

The ball given by Mr. and Mrs. Moses Ramsey on Tuesday evening, introducing their daughters, Misses Marian and Elva Ramsey, whom they have just brought home with them from Europe, was one of the most brilliant events of the season. It was given at the Jockey Club, whose rooms were artistically decorated with tropical plants and flowers, brilliantly lighted, and with great fires burning upon the hearths, presented a charming picture of warmth and light to the belles and beaux, coming in from a long drive through the frosty dark night. The third floor was utilized for the reception of the guests, small tables being placed in every convenient spot, prettily decorated, and a course served to the guests comfortably seated. Mrs. Ramsey was assisted in the reception and entertainment of her guests by her sister, Mrs. Andrew Warren. The hostess wore a very elegant Parisian gown of rich white satin and gold brocade, trimmed with fine point lace, and garniture of superb diamonds. Mrs. Warren wore an elegant gown of pale yellow brocade, made up with rich lace, and exquisite garniture of a pair of diamonds; flowers. The Misses Ramsey were both gowned in pure white Paris dresses, which displayed in every fold the skill and taste of the modiste. After the formal reception the evening was devoted to dancing and also the early morning hours.

On Tuesday afternoon Mrs. Joseph Gettys entertained the Epion Club, to which she belongs. This season the club members met promptly at 1 o'clock, and before the game a delightful luncheon is served in four courses, consuming about one hour's time.

On Wednesday afternoon Mrs. Charles W. Knapp gave a beautiful reception at her lovely new home on Washington avenue, at which were assembled representatives of most of the old St. Louis families. Mrs. Knapp was assisted by her sister-in-law, Miss Knapp, and her sister, Mrs. Henry Keeler.

Mrs. Eugene Abadie gave a large reception yesterday afternoon, introducing her young daughter, Miss Nina Abadie, and Miss Maude Belcher, a pretty young debutante from Memphis, Tenn., daughter of a former St. Louis belle and beauty, Miss Julia Rodolph. The afternoon reception for ladies was followed by a dance in the evening for the young people.

ABANDONED A CONCESSION. London Capitalists Drop a Colonization Scheme.

San Francisco, Cal., Dec. 22.—Private advices from London state authoritatively that the English syndicate of which Sir Edward Jenkins, K. C. B., is president, called the Mexican Land and Colonization Co., has decided to abandon its vast enterprise in Lower California, allowing a concession of 150,000 acres of fertile land to lapse to the Mexican government.

The concession was made by the English syndicate, composed of wealthy Londoners, lent several hundred thousand dollars to the Mexican government, and in return the government was to build a railroad from San Quentin, Lower California, Yuma, Ariz., 300 miles. Part of this was built and the whole route was surveyed. An arbitration system was planned, and considerable land was sold. The good steel rails were laid, but the cost was too high, and the syndicate now here says the road would have been a financial failure.

The concession thus thrown away was to have been a pre-eminently an autonomous government, and there was more than mere ruin in the recent story that it was to be abandoned. It is reported that C. F. Huntington intends to take
